

What's Working for English Learners

SUCCESS STORIES FROM THE FIELD

Presented by Leading Educators and Administrators

Join us to learn from K-12 teachers, ESL specialists, instructional coaches, district coordinators, and other school leaders as they share what they are doing to successfully meet the current needs of English learners! The conference schedule includes breakout sessions by current educators, informal discussion opportunities with the presenters, and complimentary lunch.

You will hear how districts are successfully addressing challenges, in sessions covering topics such as:

- Supporting Newcomers, Dual Language Learners, and Long-Term Emergent Bilinguals
- Increasing Performance on TELPAS and Building Language Proficiency
- Addressing the Needs of Emergent Bilinguals in Content Classroom
- Cross-District Collaboration and Integration of the 7 Steps

...and more!

All participants will receive a copy of the latest Seidlitz Education publication, QSSSA: The Essential Method for Structuring Conversations in All Classrooms by John Seidlitz, Montra Rogers, & Mónica Lara

KEYNOTE SESSION

A More Purposeful Teaching Life

Steve Davidson, an educator from Northeast ISD in San Antonio, will share his unique perspective of bringing together both native speakers and English learners to build a community outside of the classroom that supports all students. He will share how to embrace the philosophy of the service heart in teaching. You will also hear from young adults who spent their time and energy serving their fellow students through the tutoring program called MacTeach.

Join us later in the day for a book signing of Steve's 17 Stories: Students Finding Meaning Through Teaching and Service. Each of the 17 stories recounts the dramatic transformation experienced by the students involved in the program and its effect on their community.
